PLAY TAG LEAGUE

*Rugby League
without tackles*

School Holidays are a great time for kids to take a break and relax, but the extended break can sometimes lead to boredom and isolation from friends. The Tag League Association has a solution in the form of Holiday Day Camps. These are one day events open to boys and girls 6 to 16 years of age, designed to engage them in a fun, healthy, social activity.

The full day of activities consists of tag league coaching, tag league games, skills stations and other fun activities. Groups will then play a series of games with prizes awarded to the winning group(s). A complimentary BBQ lunch, drink and fresh fruit is included.

Tag League is a non-tackling game based on Rugby League. Tags are attached to shorts via Velcro tabs. Tags are removed in game play in place of tackles, which enhances safety and ensures fairness in game play as you either have the tag or you don't.

Rules integrate the key aspects of Rugby League, and are modified by age group to match the skills of different ages. For example, kicking is introduced in older age divisions.

It's a fun way for kids to learn how to work as a team as well as burn off some energy and get together with other kids of their age.
